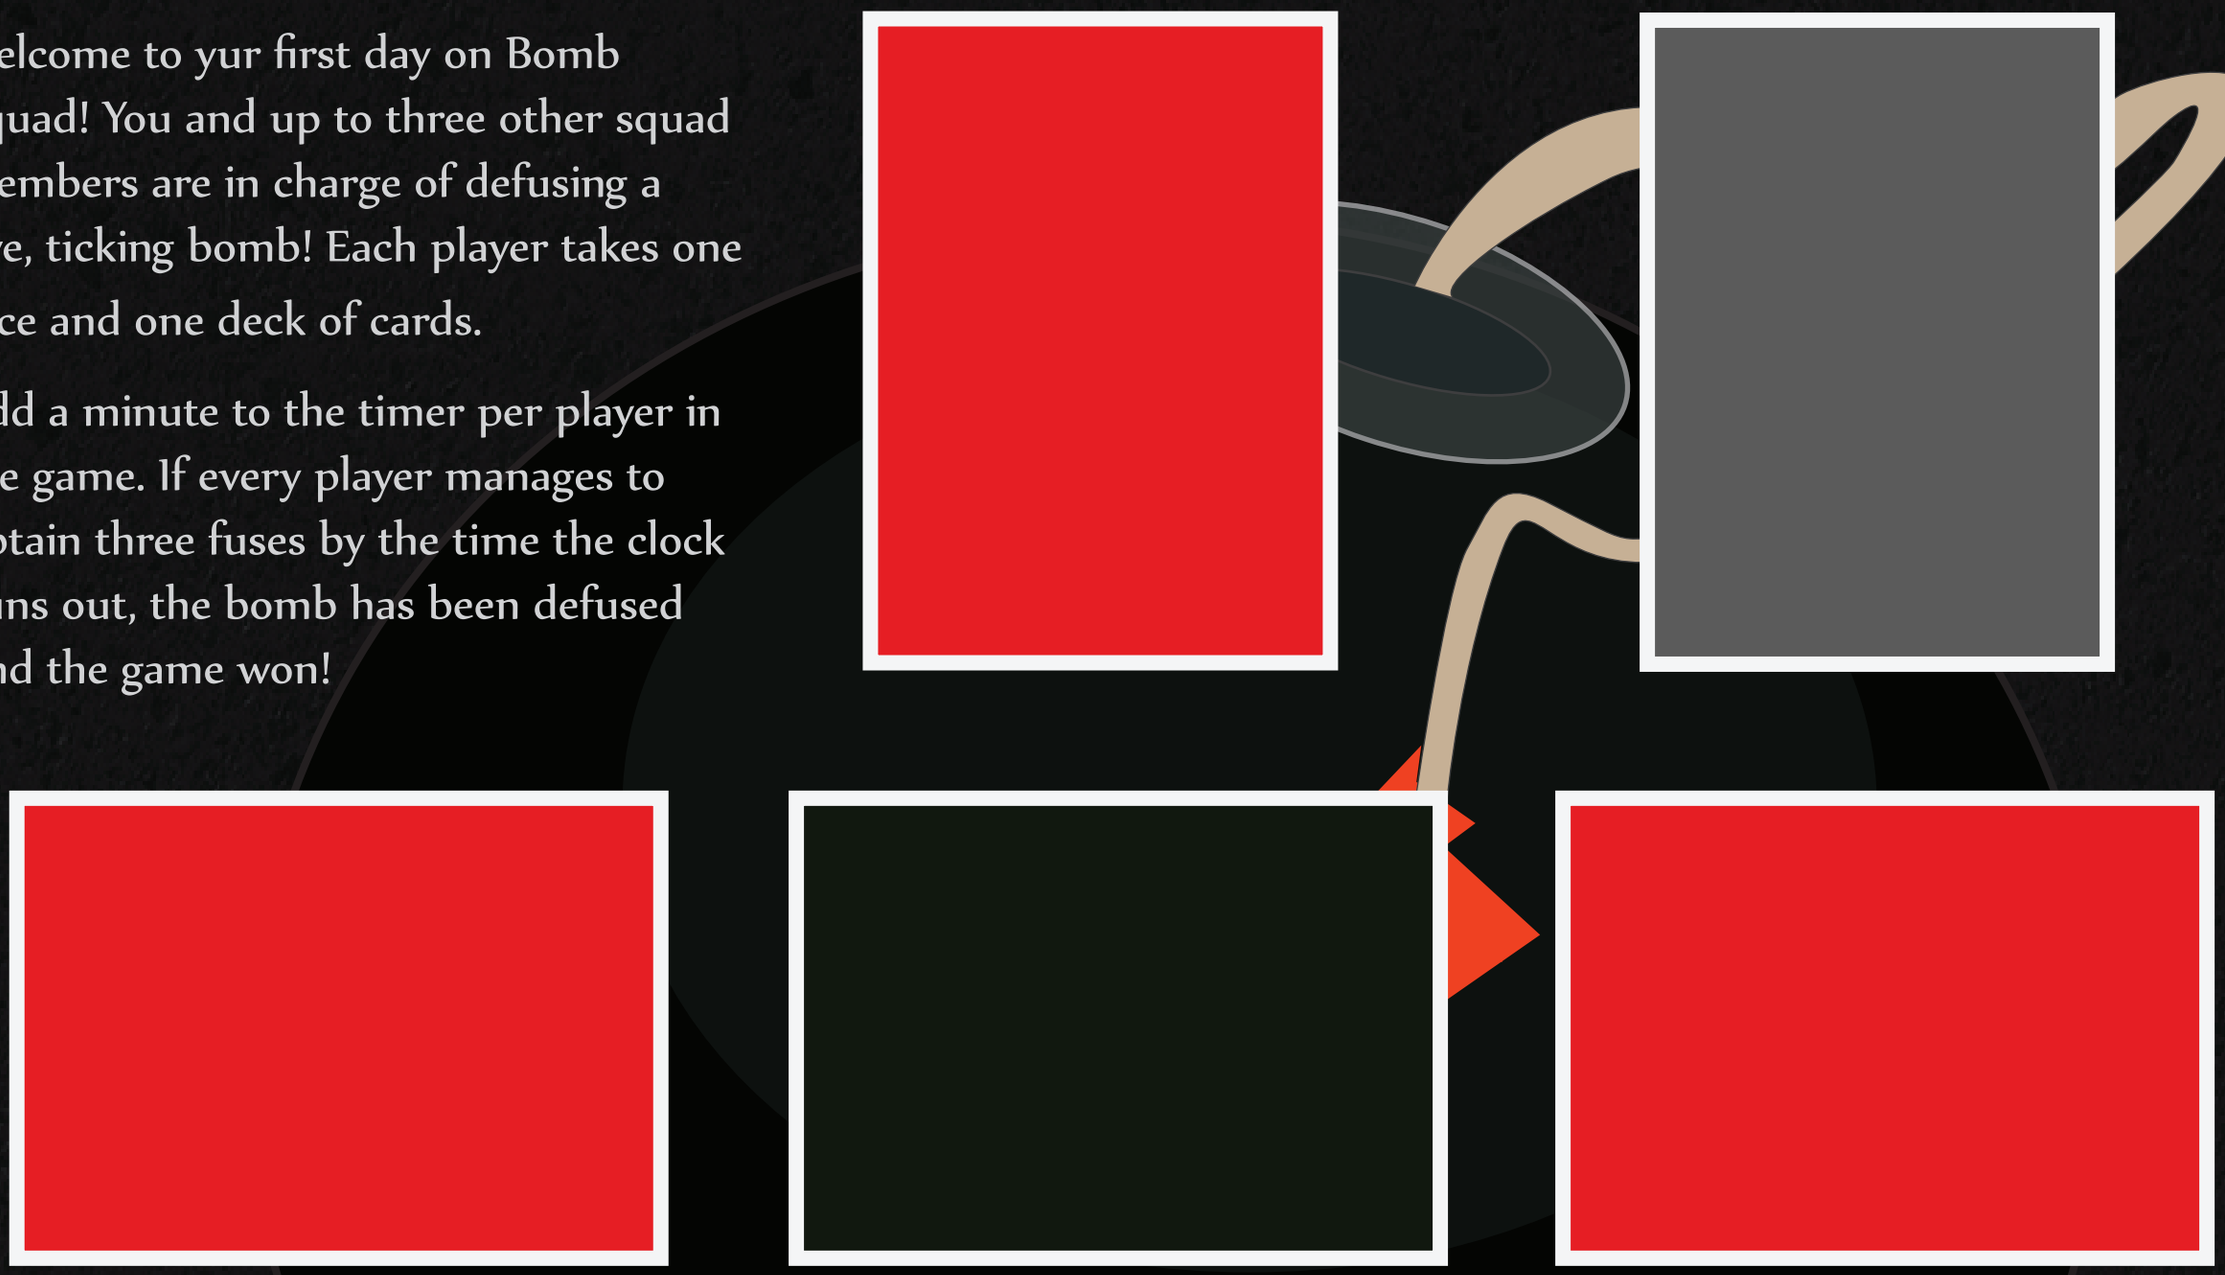
BOMB SQUAD: THE RECKONING

Welcome to yur first day on Bomb Squad! You and up to three other squad members are in charge of defusing a live, ticking bomb! Each player takes one dice and one deck of cards.

Add a minute to the timer per player in the game. If every player manages to obtain three fuses by the time the clock runs out, the bomb has been defused and the game won!



At the start of each game, every player rolls their die simultaneously, putting down the same number of cards from their deck into the center pile that their die cast, all done at the same time. If a '1' is rolled, then the player loses a fuse. If a '6' is rolled, the last card that was put down is added to the pile at the top right corner so that it may become a fuse at any time, until the next '6' is rolled, and the new card is put down.

If the same pair of cards is put down in the center pile one after another, those cards can be slapped by a player to become a fuse. If two players reach to slap the pile at the same time but hesitate and neither slaps, everybody loses a fuse. If a player mistakenly slaps the deck when a pair has not been put down, he loses a fuse. When a player runs out of cards in his deck, he can still slap to get fuses. Slap the center pile to make a fuse from the grey deck pile.
